

Online Resources List

To access this list and other emergency preparedness resources online, go to the Macomb County Health Department Emergency Preparedness website at

<http://health.macombgov.org/Health-Programs-EPP>

Visit the Federal Emergency Management Agency's website for fun games to play and learn how to be a Disaster Master! <http://www.ready.gov/kids>

Scholastic has partnered with Save the Children and Disney to create emergency preparedness activities featuring characters from Ice Age: Collision Course. Visit <http://www.scholastic.com/beprepared>

Get younger siblings involved with the help of Big Bird, Elmo, and other familiar faces! Whether it's a sunny day or the clouds are headed your way, head to Sesame Street!

<http://www.sesamestreet.org/toolkits/ready>

The American Red Cross is famous for their disaster response and recovery efforts, but they can also help you prepare for disasters! <http://www.redcross.org/prepare/location/home-family/children>

Check out the Center for Disease Control and Prevention's website to learn how preparing for emergencies can help during public health emergencies, too! Learn about different disasters with printable activity books! <http://www.cdc.gov/phpr/readywrigley>

For other emergency preparedness information, check out these great websites: <http://oemc.macombgov.org> <http://Do1thing.com>

Student and trusted adult: Be sure to check out these great websites together, and good luck with your planning!